

Roundabout Signage

Roundabout Ahead Sign: indicates that you are approaching a roundabout.

Roundabout Yield Sign: indicates that you must yield the right-of-way to vehicles already in the roundabout, stopping if necessary, and proceed when there is a gap in traffic.

Crosswalk Sign: indicates that there is a crosswalk and that you must yield to pedestrians.

Roundabout Directional Sign: indicates one-way traffic that is counter-clockwise in a roundabout.

Truck Encroachment Sign: indicates that large trucks use both lanes of the roundabout. Give trucks lots of room and do not attempt to pass trucks.

Roundabout Guide Signage: indicates that there are two entry lanes to this roundabout. Choose the correct lane for your destination before entering the roundabout:

- If you are turning left, get in the left lane;
- If you are turning right, get in the right lane; or
- If you are going straight through you can be in either lane.
